

The
JOHN G. MILLER LONGEVITY AWARD
for advisors

In an effort to say thank you to those Faculty and Kiwanis advisors who have attained longevity in their Key Club role, the John G. Miller Longevity Award has been established to recognize those Faculty and Kiwanis advisors with fifteen (15) or more years of service.

This award has been named after John G. Miller, long time faculty advisor to the Moon High School Key Club for over 38 years, and a past District Administrator. Mr. Miller truly represents dedication and loyalty to Key Clubbing in Pennsylvania.

AWARD ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

1. One must have achieved a minimum of fifteen (15) years of service as a Key Club advisor.
2. One must currently be serving as an advisor.

Recognition will take place at the annual Key Club District Convention. Recipients need not be present.

A recipient will receive this award only once, after the fifteen year anniversary date.
